OBJECT DESCRIPTION

Large rectangular wood printing block with a metal insert. The metal insert occupies the center of the block and contains Greek writing. Surrounding this insert is a metal etching which appear similar to pillars and a roof. The designs on these surroundings resemble ancient Greek designs. The wood itself is very dirty. On the bottom of the block there is a white mark on either side of the metal insert, it is unknown what caused these marks.

ORIGIN

Donated by John Damianos. The printing block was used in a linotype printing machine. Linotype presses allowed for the casting of entire lines to be printed at a time. Linotype printing was eventually succeeded by lithograph printing and computer typesetting during the 1960's and 1970's. This printing block was used by the Chicago-based, Greek Art Printing Company that was owned and operated by Aristotle Damianos. The Greek Art Printing Company was responsible for the printing of a wide range of materials, including wedding invitations, invoices, flyers, programs, letterhead, etc., for Greek businesses, organizations, institutions, and individuals in the Chicago area, and elsewhere.
