OBJECT DESCRIPTION

rectangular, wooden, lead printing block .A logo is cast on it that reads "SEVEN SEAS" in an arch. towards the top of the block. Below there are waves indicating a sea. To the right there are 3 palm trees, to the left there is a sail boat on top of the water. Underneath There's a strip of tape along the top of the block. There is also blue material stained on the casting.

ORIGIN

Donated by John Damianos. The printing block was used in a linotype printing machine. Linotype presses allowed for the casting of entire lines to be printed at a time. Linotype printing was eventually succeeded by lithograph printing and computer typesetting during the 1960's and 1970's. This printing block was used by the Chicago-based, Greek Art Printing Company that was owned and operated by Aristotle Damianos. The Greek Art Printing Company was responsible for the printing of a wide range of materials, including wedding invitations, invoices, flyers, programs, letterhead, etc., for Greek businesses, organizations, institutions, and individuals in the Chicago area, and elsewhere.
