OBJECT DESCRIPTION

White, leather, heeled shoe, right foot of the pair. The leather is on the top portion of the shoe and is also wrapped around the heel; the heel is about 2 inches. Half inch spaces separate small holes that are used to connect the fabric of the shoes to the sole of the shoe; thin strands of leather sewn through the holes. The sole of the shoe is made of wood, but is painted in a grey color; on the front portion there is wear of the color, causing the show of the brown wood underneath. The bottom of the heel has fading and has eight nails in it.

The top of the shoe, leather, has an embroidered blue design. A blue flower is stitched on the toe of the shoes; darker blue petals that are outlines in a lighter blue and also has a yellow center. Coming off of the flower are thinner blue strings stitched in to look like stems; twisting around and work their way up the shoe till the leather ends, about two inches from the heel. There are also two circles, done in the same way as the flower, on the sides of the shoe. The inside of the shoe is grey in color, also leather, and has a slight cushion at the heel.
