OBJECT DESCRIPTION

A metal pin painted gold. It is a button fastening, much like a cufflink. The front has an eagle with outstretched wings inside a circle, one wing behind the border, the other in front. Below the inside circle are vertical stripes.

ORIGIN

This is called a "ruptured duck" pin. It is a lapel button pin, despite the fact that it looks a cufflink. It is given for Honorable Discharge from the military, and belonged to Helias Doundoulakis.
