OBJECT DESCRIPTION

A black and white photograph of eight individuals, five adults and three children, posing for the camera in a dining room setting. In the foreground, left from right, is a child wearing a dress with a white collar and a printed design chest. To their left is a young child seated in a high chair with a cake on the platter portion of the chair. In the center is another child, they are dressed in a button shirt and have their body turn the adult standing behind them. To the far right is a seated individual, they are dressed in a blouse with a high collar and looking directly at the camera. In the back, reading from left to right are four standing figures. To the left is a figure dressed in a suit, they are smiling, and leaning against the person to their right. To the right of the leaning individual is a person with their left hand holding the head of the left-side figure. They are dressed in a button blouse and sweater. In the center is an individual dressed in a long-sleeved turtle neck with a pearl necklace and matching earrings. To the far right is another figure, they are their arm warped around the center figure and is wearing a patterned sweater. On the back of the photograph is a note which reads, "DAW 2 yrs."
