OBJECT DESCRIPTION

A black and white photograph showcasing six individuals, five adults, and one child, at a dining table. To the left are two individuals and a disembodied arm (far left-hand-side). One of the individuals is seated at the table wearing a polo shirt and glasses. Above them is another person. They are smiling and have their hands resting upon the seated person's shoulders. In the center stand two individuals. The person on the central left appears to be laughing and is dressed in a button-up shirt. The person on the central right-hand side is wearing a blouse and patterned skirt. They are hunched over and standing above the cake placed near the center of the table. To the right are two seated individuals, one adult and one child. The child is wearing a long-sleeved turtleneck, is holding a stuffed horse, and is seated on the lap of the far-right figure. The individual to the far right is sitting and is dressed in a button-up polo shirt and a watch. The background comprises household items such as a cabinet with a landscape painting hung above (far left), an archway, and a dining cabinet filled with glass dishes with a figurative painting on the lower shelf (far right). On the back of the photograph is writing which reads, "DAWhite."
