OBJECT DESCRIPTION

The old newspaper clipping features an article typed with black ink, which has been collaged onto a page with other clippings to create a book. The article is split into two portions and connected by a piece of tape. The top portion of the article has the title that reads "The Glory That is Greece," The second portion, the lower half of the article, has the date, which reads October 20, 1920, and the newspaper company, reading "The Cincinnati." At the end of the article, the second portion is a poem.
