OBJECT DESCRIPTION

Black and white photo of two men in uniform standing on a bridge or platform. Both are wearing helmets. The man on the left is a little taller and clean shaven. He is standing 'at ease' with his arms folded behind him looking off to the side. The man on the right appears about 6 inches shorter, slightly older and has a mustache. He is leaning slightly forward and has his right hand on his hip and his left hand on the bridge/platform railing. There is an oval sign on the railing with Greek writing on it. The background looks almost completely white.
