OBJECT DESCRIPTION

A black-and-white photographic print. A group of people are standing together in front of a wooden wall. The men are wearing suits and ties and the women are wearing dresses. The four women on the right are fairly young, while the rest of the group is older. The younger women are all wearing white dresses. All of the older women and most of the younger women are wearing hats. Writing on the back of the photo says: St. Andrews Greek Orthodox Church 6-24-56 South Bend, Indiana.

ORIGIN

This photograph is from the consecration of St. Andrew's in South Bend, Indiana, in 1956. At the time, the church was located on Michigan Avenue, however the congregation is now located on Ironwood Road. The identities of the people in the photo are unknown.
