OBJECT DESCRIPTION

A black-and-white photographic print. Groups of well-dressed children and adults are sitting at tables with white table cloths. The main focus of the photo is a long table. In the foreground, women and children are eating cake and drinking from paper cups. There are small vases of flowers on the table. There is a floor fan in the upper left corner of the photograph, a little ways away from the long table. Writing on the back of the photo says: St. Andrews Greek Orthodox Church 6-24-56 South Bend, Indiana.

ORIGIN

This photograph is from the consecration of St. Andrew's in South Bend, Indiana, in 1956. At the time, the church was located on Michigan Avenue, however the congregation is now located on Ironwood Road. The identities of the people in the photo are unknown.
