OBJECT DESCRIPTION

A photograph is a faded sepia tone and of a group that is possibly a family. Three older women dressed in long black dresses and coats sit in chairs spaced apart from each other. Behind these women and in the center is a man, a teenage boy, and a teenage girl. The two men are dressed in suits and ties with handkerchiefs hanging out of the breast pocket, and the girl is dressed in a plaid dress coat. They appear to be in a room with decorative walls, perhaps a painted mural of columns and architectural details. Written in pen on the bottom center of the photograph is the date "1922"; the bottom left-hand corner seems to have the name of a photographer handwritten. The back of the photograph is cardboard, with the handwritten words "Standing: Christ Ladies, David, Eva. Sitting: Christ aunt, Christ mother Harriet and other of Christ's aunt" and the date in the upper right-hand corner "1922."
