OBJECT DESCRIPTION

A black-and-white photographic print. A toddler, probably a boy, is standing on a dark, carved wooden chair. The back of the chair is toward the left side of the photo. The boy is standing with his feet pointed toward the back of the chair, which is taller than he is. His right hand is holding the top of the chair back, while his face is turned toward the camera. He is wearing a white romper suit with a collar and shiny black shoes with white socks or cuffs at the top. His blond hair is combed flat but is curly at the sides.
