OBJECT DESCRIPTION

Black and white photo of a restaurant. There are three people inside, with a counter and stools at the left and seating at small tables with white tablecloths on the right. There is a man wearing a suit sitting on one of the stools, a man in a vest, tie, and apron behind the counter, and a man in a white shirt, tie, and apron standing by one of the tables. There is a window and mirror at the back of the restaurant.

ORIGIN

Item was loaned to the museum in August of 1995, but no Gift Agreement could be found.

This was taken at a restaurant called "Little Star" near North Ave and Clybourn. On the right is George Avgerenos, the proprietor. He was the father of the donor.
