OBJECT DESCRIPTION

Handmade synthetic leather shoes with a white sole and a body that is made up of a Grecian geometric design in blue, white, and gold. The general form of the shoe curves up at the toe and is attached to the narrow strip of leather that would divide the toes. At the heel is a ribbon that reads "Hand made Greece" and is covered (along with the rest of the heel) in plastic. The shoe has gold trim that has been laid over the synthetic base, most noticably in the heel which is about .75 in. high.

ORIGIN

Very likely a souvenier.
