OBJECT DESCRIPTION

A framed, matted, colored artwork on scratchboard. A human figure is coming out of the water, reaching for the sun, surrounded by foliage of some kind. The frame is mostly black with metal embellishment on the outside corners and silver rivets along the inside edges of the frame.

ORIGIN

This piece was donated by the artist, Evangelia Philippidis, and on display in the National Hellenic Museum in 2005. It was donated along with four other original pieces.

Evangelia Philippidis was born and raised in Athens, Greece, until the age of 9, when she immigrated to the United States. As a child, she remembers running up the acropolis and appreciating the artwork. She moved to a small town in Ohio, where she had a very different life. She found the most profound influence on her work in Meteroa, in Central Greece. Here, she encountered the iconic style of art.
