

OBJECT ID	2001.53.1.A
OBJECT NAME	Jacket
MATERIAL	Lace; Silk; Velvet
OBJECT ENTITIES	LAZOS, JOAN (owned by) LAZOS, JOAN (is related to)
ACCESS POINTS	cream gold Queen Amalia Silk traditional costume Velvet Women Women's women's clothing

OBJECT DESCRIPTION

Amalia costume jacket. Women's jacket made out of magenta velvet, long pieces of cream lace trim on the ends of the sleeves and front. Various types of gold decorative braided trim along the edges, and spirals made from gold decorative cords.

ORIGIN

Amalia Greek costume, a Greek women's costume that originated with Queen Amalia of Oldenburg (who arrived in Greece during 1837), who actually created the costume by drawing on romantic folksy court dress inspired by Greek traditional dress and the Biedermeier style. It became a national Greek costume, and the dress became the usual attire worn by Christian Greek townswomen

CITATION

Jacket, National Hellenic Museum, <https://collections.nationalhellenicmuseum.org/Detail/objects/>. Accessed 11/30/21.