OBJECT DESCRIPTION

The front is a scene of the Galta Bridge in Istanbul. The bridge connects the east and west sides of Istanbul separated by the Bosphorus. On the other side of the bridge from the viewpoint, you can see at least four mosques, standing out because of their minerats. There are a few boats in the water and many people walking along the bridge. On the bottom of the card is written, 'Istanbul, Galata koprusu- Le pont de Galata.' On the back is a message written in Greek.
