

OBJECT ID	2012.31.1
OBJECT NAME	Drawing
DATE CREATED	circa 2010
MEDIUM	Charcoal
MATERIAL	Paper
OBJECT ENTITIES	By Peter Calaboyias, on Ikaria Island. (created by) Calaboyias, Peter (created by) Calaboyias, Peter (is related to)
ACCESS POINTS	Peter Calaboyias Windows of the Aegean

OBJECT DESCRIPTION

This is a black and gray abstract charcoal drawing. The art is drawn on a thick artists paper, and the black and gray charcoal is drawn in abstract triangles and other shapes. There are no discernable shapes such as people or buildings, it is entirely abstract.

The entire drawing is done inside of a square box which is drawn on the paper.

There is no fram

ORIGIN

Peter Calaboyias is one of Greece's preeminent modern painters. His art (both painting and sculpture work) are displayed in galleries and museums, including an exhibit in the National Hellenic Museum in 2010.

This particular piece was created by Mr. Calaboyias on the island of Ikaria where he lives in the summer when he isn't in residence in Pittsburgh as a professor. It is from his "Harbor Series". It was originally donated to the Museum to be sold during the silent auction at the 2010 Annual Fall Gala. When the item didn't sell, it was donated by Mr. Calaboyias to the Museum's permanent collection.

CITATION

Drawing, circa 2010, National Hellenic Museum, <https://collections.nationalhellenicmuseum.org/Detail/objects/>. Accessed 03/28/24.